Anthropology (BS) Curriculum Worksheet (2026 – 2027)

This worksheet outlines the required courses for this major. Students are expected to be familiar with general education and major-specific requirements for their intended major as outlined in the Clemson Undergraduate Catalog. Additionally, students must satisfy any Tri-County prerequisites for the courses below. To complete Bridge program requirements (course listed in BOLD), students must earn 30 credits at Tri-County and a 2.5 GPA during their Bridge year (fall, spring, and optional summer, if needed). Students should consult the backside of this worksheet, the Undergraduate Catalog, and the Bridge Academic Guide for Clemson course equivalencies and alternative courses if students wish to enroll in other courses or if any of the following requirements have been met through dual enrollment or AP/IB credit. Advising worksheets are supplemental planning aids and are for informational purposes only.

Anthropology Engagement Opportunities

What co- and/or extracurricular activities should I get involved in at Clemson?
There are several high impact co and extracurricular options that consistently benefit students academically, professionally, and personally.

1. Academic & Career Focused Involvement
   a. Anthropology Club (cuanthroclub@gmail.com)
   b. Criminal Justice Club (cucj@clemson.edu)
   c. Sociology Club (cccoffm@clemson.edu)

2. CBSHS Advisory Board
   Each spring, undergraduate and graduate students may apply for board membership; those who successfully complete an initial term may continue serving throughout their time at Clemson. For more information, contact Associate Dean Denise Anderson at dander2@clemson.edu.

3. SACJ Peer Mentoring
   The SACJ's Peer Mentoring Program pairs incoming students with upper-class mentors, fostering a supportive academic and social community through small group and larger events. New students who did not receive an opt-in form, or those interested in becoming a mentor, should contact Holly Williams at hpeasgo@clemson.edu.

4. Lambda Alpha
   The National Anthropology Honor Society recognizes academic excellence in Anthropology. Open to qualified majors and minors, lifetime membership offers opportunities to publish in a peer reviewed journal and compete for student paper awards and graduate scholarships. For more information, contact Dr. David Markus (dmarkus@clemson.edu).

5. Alpha Kappa Delta
   The International Sociology Honor Society (AKD) promotes the study of humanity in service to society. Eligible undergraduates gain access to professional publications and student paper competitions. For more information, contact Dr. Sarah Winslow (swinslo@clemson.edu).

Are there any co- and/or extracurricular activities I should get involved in at Tri-County?
Any opportunity to connect with others at Tri-County can help you expand your social capital and professional network. We recommend pursuing activities aligned with your major, as well as organizations that align with your hobbies, values, or personal interests.

Should I prepare for higher education (a Master's or Doctoral degree) in my field?
Yes—if pursuing graduate education aligns with your goals. We offer an accelerated 4+1 Master of Science in Social Sciences program for SACJ majors who have completed 90 credit hours and earned a minimum 3.4 GPA. This program does not require additional admissions testing or application fees, allowing motivated students to transition seamlessly into graduate study.

Are there any experiential learning opportunities I can participate in when I get to Clemson?
Yes—Clemson offers a range of experiential learning opportunities that allow you to apply what you learn in the classroom to real-world settings, including:

- Mock Trial and Moot Court – Build critical thinking, public speaking, and legal reasoning skills through competitive simulations.
- Creative Inquiry – Participate in faculty mentored research projects, with topics that vary by discipline and semester.
- Internships – Gain hands-on professional experience related to your career goals while strengthening your résumé.
- Study Abroad – Engage in global learning experiences that deepen your cultural understanding and provide international academic or experiential opportunities.

These experiences are excellent ways to explore interests, build transferable skills, and enhance both graduate school and career preparation. For more information on these experiential learning opportunities, visit the SACJ Student Engagement page.

What opportunities should I be looking into that will look good for my resume?
Focus on opportunities that align with your future career goals, such as internships, job shadowing, or clubs and organizations connected to your intended field—ideally pursued early in your academic career. Look for ways to take on leadership or peer mentor roles, even if they are not directly related to your major. Opportunities such as serving as an Orientation Ambassador or participating on student panels allow you to develop transferable skills while sharing your Clemson experience. Most importantly, stay open to new opportunities, even those outside your comfort zone, and challenge yourself to try something different.
